(Continued from Page 1) news of the effect of calcium arsenite on the boll weevil before the department of agriculture had time ready to make its announcement on the subject. The effect of the preparation inaugurated by the commission was not so prompt or complete as the experiment and the result was not quite what was variable in quality, while in other instances it was anything but what it was supposed to be.

The treatment, naturally derived variable results from application of the treatment. In some cases it worked as had been advertised but in other instances the treatment was unsuccessful.

Treatment instructions should be prepared and the correct chemical be used in order to assure effective results.

Mr. Maloney was interviewed by George E. Smith, director of agricultural extension service, during the month, six American states and two American territories, five Mexican states and four Mexican territories.

NATURAL GAS PRICES QUOTED

Wise Oil Company began business last fall for gas less than per 1,000 cubic feet, broken discount of 10 per cent off the regular price. The minimum bill of 20 cents for any one month. This principally to our domestic consumers. Our rate for industrial and other purposes was as follows:

Steam Boiler—The power purchased for use 1000 cubic feet, was a discount of 40 per cent for the payment not later than the 10th of the month following delivery.

Hospitals, 10¢—15¢ per 1,000 cubic feet, less a discount of 25 per cent for payment as above.

Bakeries—10¢ per 1,000 cubic feet, less a discount of 20 per cent for payment as above.

On November 1st, 1920, we put into effect a new schedule of rates, but this is still pending final ratification. In the meantime we are collecting the difference between the 10¢ and 20¢ rate if we lose the decision. We are including some of our bills etc., that will show the charges that have been made.

Our company now supplies about 80% of the natural gas consumed by about one-fifth the population of the city. We supply two oil companies, a cotton oil mill, and an oil refinery. We also supply two planing mills, the city's paving department, we supply the ice cream factory, one bakery and dairy, and one bakery. We supply the Shreveport Charities hospital, the Red Cross, and the Salvation Army.

The Cadle gas and oil tank was discovered in 1900-1901 and natural gas added to the system about 1906.

Tent Show Players Please Audience

Texan Confesses Killing Father

A large audience attended the opening performance of the Guy E. Long players last night at the tent show situated opposite the San Antonio Machine and Supply Co. on Chaparral street.

The feature was a four part drama, comedy acted with much animation.

The theme of the play, "The Awakening," was one of two rivals for the girl, one good and not wealthy writing. The couple settle down and live happily until the other man appears on the scene and meets death. The uncle and aunt furnished part of the story but the hit was "Ben," the country boy who comes to visit, proposes to the daughter of the family and is successful. The comical situations which ends with the husband furnished fun.

"Kitty" the daughter, an amazement through her whimsical ways, Ward comes entered into the plot and thickened it.

A portion of one of James Whitcomb Riley's poems was well received. "Ellen," the red-headed country girl, sang a musical ballad of his adventures in "The Little Red Riding Hood" and ended with a simple song between the acts provided him.

It was announced that Guy E. Long players is a new organization and carries 35 people including the band and orchestra. New and well known plays will be presented during the week. For tonight "Broadway and Busterville" is on the program.

CANADA PROTECTS FARMERS
MONTREAL, Feb. 7.—Action to protect Canadian agriculture will be taken as soon as it is learned what the United States decides to do under the new trade agreement of the Wilson administration, accepted as a mandate in it not an expression of the will of the American people.

The United States should take the lead in disarmament, declared Mr. Morrell, adding:

"An agreement is not reached for the limitation of armaments and warlike industries, but when it is, the result will be that of America, as in Europe, says the talk was that Germany."

Representative Townsend, informed Mr. Morrell. He also urged a disarmament agreement but advised consideration of the present existing situation.

Dr. Tolmie said he was surprised to learn of a recent convention of nation men in Texas, which he attended, that they were unanimous in advocating a high tariff against Canadian goods.

There is no place for the cotton belt as sugar, cotton, tobacco, fisheries and lumber are the chief products.

None of our ports are safe for navigation, he said.

He said the Canadian government had been instrumental in the international agreement. The result, he said, since the end of the war has not occurred anywhere abroad, he said, and was evidence to the world of America's desire to reduce its military establishment to the minimum consistent with safety.

Discussing the question of disarmament, Admiral Coats declared that disarmament bills had appeared after we have wasted all our lives for a cause of importance and equality, and now when civilization was at hand.

He advised against stopping any part soon as experiments were made, way of the 1916 limiting program so far were conducted. He could think of no better method of doing or useful method of doing.

Secretary Daniels in making public known his article to Secretary Wilson pointed out that the U.S. would not be able to exert bombing but that by allied agreement the U.S. would be compelled to destroy the old battleship towns already fitted for naval vessels given this country as used for similar purposes later.
